ACQUISITION OF CITIZENSHIP OF THE UNITED KINGDOM

United Kingdom - one of the most attractive country for immigration . UK legal framework provides for dual citizenship. The reasons for migration vary. Many people wonder how to get citizenship in England, but it is worth noting that this is the last stage before registration English passport. Currently British nationality have very prestigious. However , despite the high social status , the procedure for obtaining British citizenship standard and similar to other European Union countries.

An alien is entitled to become a citizen of the United Kingdom under certain conditions. A foreigner must reside in the country for at least 5 years, follow the rules of immigration law to be mentally healthy, and a good citizen, not attracted to justice. In addition to these requirements, the UK citizenship requires to prove his desire to be a citizen of the Kingdom. For the English allegiance alien must prove knowledge of the history and customs of England , and to support them. In this regard, the need to give an oath to the British Crown. This is to ensure that the government was sure of fidelity to man considered his application on the basis of which the decision .

Must be the owner of the certificate of naturalization - this document is a prerequisite for a passport. We can say that getting citizenship England is not difficult, but the government can deny this right in case of exposure of a foreigner in the provision of false data or before any important biographical facts. Most people go on a search for a better life in England. United Kingdom - one of the few countries which provides many immigration programs. Currently , the British government is taking steps to reduce migration from underdeveloped countries and Eastern Europe, because without a good education for citizenship is much more difficult .

Getting British citizenship has several advantages for investors and professionals. Attracts stable economic and political situation of the country, a good standard of living , perfect tax system. The possibility of a prestigious education and develop their careers , low crime rate , a very favorable climate , etc. Get British passport can be based on one of the migration visas: a job leadership of a company incorporated in England ; to open and doing business ; for investment purposes ;

Immigration to represent the interests of the company in England . Every immigration programs have certain requirements and conditions to be followed for British citizenship.

British authorities have concluded that in recent years naturalized migrants no longer meet the requirements for the average Briton . In this regard , the UK is much complicated and diversified test questions , which must pass every foreigner who wants to nationalize the kingdom.

Now those who want to get a British passport, will not only answer questions about daily life in the country, access to credit or payment options provider.

The new version of the test focuses contenders for the history and culture of the United Kingdom and those values shared by millions of Britons today .

For example, immigrants now have to learn which flower is a symbol of the national Memorial Day many years ruled by Queen Elizabeth II and the name which is founded in 1801, the flag of the country, ITAR- TASS.

There is a more specific question, which, however , supporters of the UK anyway should know. Among them, the name of the patron saint of Scotland , the minimum age for participation in the jury and the name of the second largest chamber of the British Parliament.

The government believes it is reasonable that the questions of the test tasks are not difficult even for the average student. Probably almost everyone who visited London know what Admiral is a monument in Trafalgar Square and at the prehistoric monument located in Wiltshire in England.

" The increasing complexity of the test - only part of our efforts to promote the integration of foreigners in British society - said State Minister of Immigration of Mark Harper. - We intend to restore the balance between temporary and permanent migration, is already making radical changes to the current system of granting citizenship. This is to ensure that in the years to reduce the number of visitors from hundreds to tens of thousands . "

45-minute test will be first tested in March. Full list of questions available to him in the book "Life in the UK " , which is already on sale . Try your hand you can on the official website of the interior of the kingdom , which has tens of thousands of people were trial tests.

Increased government control migration due to the fact that every year becomes worse situation with the socialization of migrants and their integration into British society . Many of them just do not want to learn the country in which they come to live and create their own enclaves. Many submits to citizenship, even without knowing English.

Furthermore, even if a passport majority of current workers continue to ignore the issue of integration into British society and study the country of which they were .

This situation has resulted in recent years in some remote areas of central London almost did not hear the English language , and new residents are trying to establish where law and order, which lived at home.
